D) READING COMPREHENSION (BRALNO RAZUMEVANJE)

A BRIEF HISTORY OF BASKETBALL (brief = short)

The game of basketball originated in December 1891 by a Canadian born man by the name of James Naismith. Naismith was a teacher at the YMCA training school in Springfield, Massachusetts. He was required to train young men to become instructors at newly opened YMCA centers. With the cold weather keeping the class indoors, in December 1891, Naismith was asked by the schools Superintendent of Physical Education, Dr. Luther H. Gulick, to create an indoor game that would keep the young men active during the cold winter months.

With the help of his wife and memories of playing 'Duck on a Rock' during his childhood, he decided to create a game that would focus on skill rather than strength. For those who are curious... 'Duck on a Rock' was a game in which players threw rocks at a certain target placed on top of a large boulder or tree stump. The game he ended up inventing is the game we all know and love today – basketball.

How Basketball Was First Played

Basketball required very little equipment to play... two peach baskets hanging 10 feet above the ground, and a soccer ball. The object of the game is to work as a team to throw or bat the soccer ball into the opposing team's peach basket, while defending a score in your peach basket from the opposition team.

As you can imagine, it was a major pain getting the ball out of the peach basket when a team finally scored. Some say they used a long poll to push the ball out, others say someone was required to climb a ladder to retrieve it... Either way, the initial players weren't great shooters so they didn't have to worry about this too much! Originally, the game involved nine players on each team... What! Why nine players? Because Naismith's class had 18 people in it. He also developed rules for the game known as 'The 13 Rules of Basketball'.

1. Where was James Naismith born? In Canada.
2. The first game of basketball was played in (December) 1891.
3. Why did the students have P.E. inside? Because it was cold outside.
4. Was basketball an outdoor or an indoor game at first? Indoor.
5. Which game helped James create his own one? Duck on a Rock.

7. They needed a lot of equipment to play it. TRUE / FALSE
8. It was easy to get the ball out of the basket. TRUE / FALSE
9. The first players didn't play the game very well. TRUE / FALSE
